Challenger No Match for Dempsey's Terrific Hammering In Ring

Saved By Gong In Third Round, Frenchman Meets Chin and Body Swings in Next and "Crepules"—Throngs See Battle

Round One

The bell rang on the first swing, a left to the jaw. Dempsey backed Carpentier two steps and then danced out of the way of the Frenchman's lead with rights to the jaw. Each man knocked the other down, one time. Dempsey seemed to have the best right, which he used repeatedly and smartly.

Round Two

The first swing was a left to the jaw. Dempsey went down hard. But he got up right away and started to punch. In the center of the ring, the Frenchman got the upper hand and drove the American back. Dempsey went down for the count of nine, and Carpentier began hitting him. Dempsey got up and fought back, but Carpentier was in the lead. Dempsey drove him for a time back to the ring, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was electrified.

Round Three

Carpentier had the upper hand until Dempsey drove him back and took the count of nine. Then he rose to his feet and began hitting him. Dempsey tried to go for a knockout, but Carpentier was backing away. Dempsey drove him back to the ring, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium.

Round Four

Dempsey drove Carpentier back and took the count of nine. He rose to his feet and hit him. Dempsey drove him back again, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium.

Round Five

Dempsey drove Carpentier back to the ring, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium. Dempsey drove Carpentier back again, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium.

Round Six

Dempsey drove Carpentier back to the ring, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium. Dempsey drove Carpentier back again, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium.

Round Seven

Dempsey drove Carpentier back to the ring, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium. Dempsey drove Carpentier back again, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium.

Round Eight

Dempsey drove Carpentier back to the ring, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium. Dempsey drove Carpentier back again, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium.

Round Nine

Dempsey drove Carpentier back to the ring, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium. Dempsey drove Carpentier back again, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium.

Round Ten

Dempsey drove Carpentier back to the ring, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium. Dempsey drove Carpentier back again, then took the count of nine and rose to his feet. The crowd was in a state of pandemonium.